Subject: Partnerships Plus Call for Concept Papers No. PP-EI-003, “Advancing Protection and Care for Children in Adversity (3)”

The Partnerships Plus project invites qualified local and/or U.S.-based organizations, private voluntary organizations, non-governmental organizations, faith-based organizations, or universities to submit a Concept Paper as a first step in a competitive process to support the achievement of the Objectives established in the U.S. Government strategy, Advancing Protection and Care for Children in Adversity: A U.S. Government Strategy for International Assistance (APCCA). APCCA implementation is coordinated by the United States Agency for International Development (USAID).

The APCCA Strategy<sup>1</sup> seeks to achieve three evidence-based strategic objectives to improve the lives of the world’s most-vulnerable children: 1) Build Strong Beginnings; 2) Put Family First; and 3) Protect Children from Violence. This Call for Concept Papers seeks to support the development of global capacity and tools, improve knowledge management, promote the dissemination of guidance or best practices, and improve policy or decision-making in order to promote nurturing and protective family care and improve the safety, wellbeing, and development of vulnerable children.

A total of USD $1,000,000 is available. Partnerships Plus intends to award up to three (3) subgrants. The actual number and size of the subgrants under this call will be determined based on the content and responsiveness of the Concept Papers received, need/requirements of USAID and JSI, and the availability of funds for the proposed activities. The period of performance for each subgrant shall not exceed twenty four (24) months, with an end date no later than June 30, 2022.

In line with USAID’s New Partner Initiative,<sup>2</sup> new and underutilized organizations are encouraged to respond to this call. These can include U.S. and local community-based and faith-based partners, that have limited or no recent experience in working with, and receiving funds from USAID. Concepts will be accepted from both individual organizations and consortia with primary grantees and subgrantees.

Please read the Call for Concept Papers in its entirety and ensure that the Concept Paper submitted addresses all of the items listed in the Concept Paper Instructions (Section B) and within the Technical Evaluation Criteria (Section C3).

Concept Papers must be submitted in English by January 13, 2020, at 5:00PM EST. Concept Papers submitted after the closing date/time will not be considered. One (1) electronic copy of the Concept Paper should be sent to olga\_cojocari@jsi.com. Multiple Concept Papers from one organization will not be accepted.

SECTION A: PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

A1. Introduction and Project Results

Partnerships Plus is a Cooperative Agreement funded by the United States Agency for International Development (USAID) and implemented by JSI Research & Training Institute, Inc. (JSI). The Partnerships Plus project aims to support community programs that seek to improve overall health of communities, especially in relation to children in adversity and habilitation/rehabilitation.

Partnerships Plus would like to partner with qualified local and/or U.S.-based organizations, private voluntary organizations, non-governmental organizations, faith-based organizations, and universities, to support the achievement of the Objectives established in the U.S. Government strategy *Advancing Protection and Care for Children in Adversity: A U.S. Government Strategy for International Assistance* (APCCA).

This Call for Concept Papers seeks to address the overarching results listed below, in line with APCCA's stated objectives to: 1) Build Strong Beginnings; 2) Put Family First; and 3) Protect Children from Violence:

Result 1: To develop technical tools, guidance, best practices, training, and/or communications material that influence and support stakeholders to promote nurturing and protective family care, and

Result 2: To facilitate active collaboration, knowledge exchange and learning, and dissemination of resources to improve the safety, wellbeing and development of vulnerable children.

A total of USD $1,000,000 is available. Under this call, Partnerships Plus anticipates awarding up to three subgrants. The actual number and size of subgrants under this call will be determined based on the content and responsiveness of the Concept Papers received, needs/requirements of USAID and JSI, potential for making significant impacts, and availability of funds for the proposed activities. The period of performance for each subgrant shall not exceed 24 months, with an end date no later than June 30, 2022. In line with USAID's New Partner Initiative, new and underutilized organizations are encouraged to respond to this call. These can include U.S. and local community-based and faith-based partners, that have limited or no recent experience in working with, and receiving funds from USAID. Concepts will be accepted from both individual organizations and consortia with primary grantees and subgrantees.

Given the relatively short implementation period and the fact that there will be no opportunity for extensions, Applicants are encouraged to propose interventions that build upon and/or complement existing efforts.

This document describes the purpose, application process, and selection criteria that will be used to review Concept Papers.

A2. Background/Justification

Since 1989, USAID has provided financial and technical assistance to improve the safety, well-being, and development of especially vulnerable children (defined as under 18 years of age) through the Vulnerable Children account (formerly DCOF). This support has sought to ensure that all funded activities build upon and contribute to the evidence base concerning the best practices for ensuring appropriate care, protection, and development of children. For this proposal, we are seeking proposals for programming that supports the development of tools, best practices, knowledge management, training, and advocacy to support these objectives globally.

Advancing Protection and Care for Children in Adversity: A U.S. Government Strategy for International Assistance (APCCA) is the prevailing guidance for U.S. Government Agencies and Departments regarding:

- The most-vulnerable newborns and young children;
- Children who are, or at risk of living outside of family care; and
- Children who need protection from, and/or responsive care, because of, violence, exploitation, abuse, and neglect.

This Call for Concept Papers is designed to support the implementation of APCCA and the achievement of its three strategic objectives. The approaches outlined in APCCA help partner countries on their Journey to Self-Reliance by supporting their ability to sustainably finance, manage and deliver services that lead to prosperous children, families and communities. USAID will give priority to concepts that promise impact beyond direct services, such as those which strengthen local capacity, and offer models and approaches for expansion and/or replication. While support in some cases is directed toward parents or other adults, the primary beneficiaries must be children below 18 years of age.

A3. Program Results

For each of the Results listed below, the Applicant shall describe and demonstrate how it will achieve the project Results. Note that activities suggested are illustrative and Applicants are not expected to complete every activity. The Applicant may also offer alternative strategies and/or approaches to meet the two Results defined in this Call.

This Call for Concept Papers seeks to address the following required overarching results, in line with APCCA's strategic objectives to 1) Build Strong Beginnings; 2) Put Family First; and 3) Protect Children from Violence:

Result 1: To develop tools, guidance, best practices, training, and/or communications materials that influence and support stakeholders to promote nurturing and protective family care, and resources to improve the safety, wellbeing and development of vulnerable children.

Result 2: To facilitate active collaboration, knowledge exchange, training, and dissemination of

Successful Concept Papers will include activities that address both of these Results. This may be achieved by partnering with other organizations, including new and underutilized partners. To achieve success under the Results, Applicants are expected to develop products and training that demonstrate deep and nuanced understandings of country contexts and/or stakeholders. Applicants are expected to increase the knowledge and capacity of stakeholders including local and faith-based organizations, governments, communities, families, and individuals.

Below is a list of illustrative activities that could be used to achieve the above Results. These activities should not be viewed as required or exhaustive. Other interventions that can also contribute to the achievement of the Results will be considered, particularly those taking into account country context(s) and the roles of key stakeholders.

- Develop and provide training on tools, guidance and best practices that advance APCCA's objectives and guiding principles;
- Develop social and behavioral change communications campaigns that support APCCA's three objectives;
- Promote technically sound policy and programmatic action;
- Provide a platform for the voices of children and families with lived-experience in policy and advocacy forums;
- Connect global, regional, and national partners and coordinate advocacy efforts through a range of engagement activities including convenings and other forums for collaboration;
- Strengthen and grow social-service workforces through training and other educational or advocacy efforts to improve the retention and performance of professional and paraprofessional child-welfare and protection workers;
- Train parents and other family caregivers, teachers, social workers, and faith and community leaders to identify children who have been exposed to violence and link them to appropriate services to develop violence-free homes, schools, and communities; and
- Strengthen child-welfare and child-protection systems, including supporting the implementation and enforcement of laws and policies to prevent, respond to, and protect children from all forms of violence, exploitation, abuse, and neglect, including children vulnerable to online violence and exploitation.

A5. Monitoring, Evaluation and Reporting

Successful Applicant(s) will be required to submit a Workplan and a Progress Monitoring Plan that will be used to measure progress toward Results. The Workplan and Progress Monitoring Plan is due to Partnerships Plus for approval within one month of signing a subgrant agreement with JSI. A description of specific child safeguarding measures will be required with the first annual Workplan for approval by USAID. Successful Applicant(s) will be expected to meet Partnerships Plus reporting requirements. These include: submission of quarterly performance reports (based on agreed-upon metrics and indicators) and periodic financial reports. Reporting templates and guidelines will be provided.

A6. Child Safeguarding Provisions

Because the activities to be funded under this Call for Concept Papers potentially involve direct contact with children, the recipient of an award resulting from this call will be required to assess potential risks to children and to implement appropriate measures to prevent, mitigate, and respond to child abuse, exploitation, violence or neglect by project personnel or any subgrantees and otherwise comply with child safeguarding provisions specified in provision M27 of USAID's Standard Provisions for U.S. Nongovernmental Organizations<sup>3</sup> and/or provision M25 of USAID's Standard Provisions for non-U.S. Nongovernmental Organizations.<sup>4</sup>

A two-step process may be used to determine the organization receiving a subgrant. The first step is the submission of a Concept Paper that will be evaluated by a technical committee. Funding decisions may be determined based solely on this first step. The second step, if necessary, is for any organization(s) selected through the Concept Paper stage to submit an updated application.

All Concept Papers that meet the specified requirements and are submitted on or before the due date and time will be reviewed by a technical committee that will evaluate the Concept Papers according to the criteria provided below. ## SECTION C: ELIGIBILITY AND SELECTION CRITERIA

C1. Eligibility

Partnerships Plus is seeking Concept Papers from local and/or U.S.-based organizations, faith-based organizations, non-governmental organizations or universities who meet the following minimum criteria. Partnerships to achieve the expected results will be considered. The organization must:

Incomplete Concept Papers judged to be unresponsive to this Call for Concept Papers and/or submitted after the due date and time will not be considered for an award. Concept Papers deemed to be complete will then be reviewed against the selection criteria outlined in Section C3.

A two-step process may be used to determine the organization receiving a subgrant. The first step is the submission of a Concept Paper that will be evaluated by a technical committee. Funding decisions may be determined based solely on this first step. The second step, if necessary, is for any selected organization(s) to modify its application.

Partnerships Plus reserves the right to request clarifications, further information or revisions from any Applicant deemed to have met initial selection criteria as needed to make a final selection. The Finance Director will use the conclusions of the technical committee, together with an evaluation of costs to determine if negotiations with an Applicant are required. A recommendation for funding is contingent on the availability of funds and the approval of the project's AO within USAID/Washington.

C3. Technical Evaluation Criteria

The Applicant should note that these criteria serve: (1) to identify the significant matters which the Applicant should address in its Concept Paper; and (2) as the standard against which all Concept Papers will be evaluated.

The Concept Paper will be evaluated against the following criteria:

A. Technical Merit Review (75 points):

- If partnerships are proposed, are the roles and responsibilities of each proposed partner identified?

B. Organizational Capacity and Management Approach (15 points):

Applicant's proposed Management Approach will be reviewed and scored based on the extent to which the Applicant's organizational capacity, staffing plan and partnership arrangements demonstrate institutional expertise and commitment towards achieving the program's Results, developing sustainable local capabilities, and integration with other relevant country, regional, or global initiatives driving progress in the sector.

C. Cost Effectiveness (10 points)

Cost estimates will be analyzed as part of the Concept Paper review. Other considerations are the adequacy of budget and consistency with elements of the technical application. The realism of budget estimates for proposed activities, the degree to which the budget allocation results in optimal use of program funds, and the cost reasonableness to implement the proposed program activities.

C4. Weighting of Evaluation Criteria

The Applicant will be evaluated by the technical committee and scored based on the following weighted criteria:
