

Primary Prevention for Child Protection in Humanitarian Action

Learn online with the Alliance!

What will you learn?

The Primary Prevention Framework for Child Protection in Humanitarian Action was released by the Alliance for Child Protection in Humanitarian Action in 2021. The L&D Working Group of the Alliance would like to offer you a free, online learning opportunity to further explore the framework to strengthen overall understanding of primary prevention in child protection in humanitarian action. The course will provide an introduction to prevention programming, and will allow you to reflect on how the Primary Prevention Framework for Child Protection in Humanitarian Action is relevant to your context.

What will you achieve?

By the end of the online course you will be able to:

- Define prevention in child protection in humanitarian action
- Discuss the eight guiding principles for CPHA prevention programming
- Explain the five steps of prevention programming and give examples of how these may be applicable in own context
- Describe opportunities and challenges associated with prevention programming in child protection in humanitarian action.

Learning on this course

The course is free and comprises 2 sessions run in English which are compulsory to get a certificate and an optional workshop to further unpack concepts on CPHA primary prevention through peer engagement.

Tuesday October 25th 11:00 CET – 14:30 CET	Thursday October 27th 11:00 CET - 14:30 CET	OPTIONAL - Thursday November 3rd 11:00 CET – 13:00 CET
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Welcome and Intros • Objectives and Expectations • Defining Prevention in CPHA • Prevention Guiding Principles 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Integrating Prevention in Programme Management Cycle • Challenges and Opportunities for Prevention Programming in CPHA • Q&A • Conclusions and Evaluation 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Follow up workshop

The sessions will be delivered remotely via Zoom and will comprise presentations, group works and individual activities. Iterations of the course in French and Spanish are being planned.

Who is this course for?

Child protection in humanitarian action and child protection in development settings professionals from Governments, UN agencies, International Non-Governmental Organisations, Local Non-Governmental Organisations, Civil Society Organisations etc., are invited to express their interest for this course.

How to register?

We have limited slots available and we will prioritise applications that are submitted for a team of 2 to 3 people within the same organisation, agency or body, to support the implementation of learning by teams and organisations following the sessions. The course is entirely free. To register please complete this short form with your contact details and motivational statement by October 3rd, 2022. If you are participating with a team please make sure you specify this and the contact details of the other participants. Local and Civil Society Non-Governmental Organisations are encouraged to apply!