

Inter-Agency Child Protection Information System

How the Inter-Agency Information System can support Child Protection Programs

December 2008

• Overview

- The inter-agency information system supports child protection's activities and more specifically:
 - Family Tracing & Reunification Programs
 - Demobilization Disarmament & Reintegration Programs
 - Programs for other Vulnerable Children
- It facilitates the tracing, reunifications and follow-ups as well as matches between family members searching for missing children and separated children.
- The system also facilitates case management and identifies protection concerns for separated children, children associated with fighting forces and armed groups (CAAFAGs) and other vulnerable children.
